

PUBLIC SECURITY BUREAU

PROTECTING SOCIETY FROM TERRORISM AND OTHER THREATS FROM OVERSEAS

To keep citizens both in Tokyo and across Japan safe and secure, the TMPD is taking measures to prevent illegal acts by international terrorists, extremists, and right-wing activists. We are also continuing our investigations concerning the suspected cases of abduction of Japanese citizens by North Korean agents, cracking down on harmful groups targeting Japan, and taking steps to counter cyberattacks and ensure economic security.

Activities concerning economic security

Outreach activities to companies

Making awareness-raising videos

Measures against cyberattacks

Public-private joint cyberattack response training (online)

Suspected cases of abduction by North Korea

Prevention of terrorism and other illegal activities

Demonstration by extremists

Search and seizure at a hideout of extremists

Regulating right-wing activists giving speeches on the streets

Training to combat NBC attacks

*An NBC attack is an act of terrorism using nuclear (N), biological (B), or chemical (C) substances.

Measures against international terrorism

AFP-Jiji Press

Turkey: Terrorist bombing in central Istanbul

Raising awareness with digital billboards

Scan the 2-D bar code for more information on countermeasures against cyberattacks (only in Japanese).

Scan the 2-D bar code for more information on the TMPD's counterterrorism (only in Japanese).

Scan the 2-D bar code for details on suspected cases of abduction of Japanese citizens by North Korean agents (only in Japanese).

Scan the 2-D bar code for details on the dangers of the Aum Shinrikyo cult (only in Japanese).

Scan the 2-D bar code for more information on Japanese Red Army members wanted internationally (only in Japanese).

