150th Anniversary of the TMPD

On January 15, 2024, the Tokyo Metropolitan Police Department (TMPD) will celebrate its 150th anniversary.

Since its establishment in 1874, the TMPD has been tasked with ensuring the security of the Tokyo metropolitan area while adapting to the city's ever-changing needs.

As we approach 150 years of service, we wish to acknowledge our predecessors' efforts and the public's support.

But new challenges abound.

To establish Tokyo as the world's safest city, the TMPD is working to safeguard its citizens and residents from crime and terrorism that are taking more sophisticated and diverse forms. We will continue striving for future development while maintaining the high standards and traditions that earn public trust.
